Introducing the AMCP Foundation/Sanofi Internship in Specialty Care

Gain a Resident Point of View with Eva Carlson, PharmD

In partnership with Sanofi, AMCP Foundation created this new internship program to train future leaders in the role of managed care pharmacists, data analytics, and effective communication & leadership skills. By working directly with pharmacists in specialty pharmacy, or related business units, interns learn how high-cost therapies can be optimally distributed and managed with patient education and adherence support through specialty care.

Before beginning her residency, Eva Carlson, PharmD, had a goal to learn more about diversity, equity, and inclusion (DEI) initiatives within health care. She used her residency with Premera Health Plan to broaden her knowledge regarding health disparities that impact various populations. Read her resident blog today to learn more about her residency experience.
