

Announcing AMCP Foundation’s Inaugural Internship Focused on Health Disparities

We are excited to announce the launch of our newest immersive experience for student pharmacists, a themed internship on health disparities. This program embeds an AMCP Foundation intern on-site at a health plan or PBM, with the student completing a capstone research project that contributes to AMCP and AMCP Foundation’s strategic priority to address health disparities.

From Paula’s Desk: Examining Health Disparities from the Patient Perspective

June's AMCP Summit on Health Disparities was not only thought-provoking but started the groundwork necessary to enact change. We were proud to conduct a session highlighting health disparities from the patient perspective, featuring leading experts in the field: John M. Allen, PharmD, BCPS, BCCCP, FCCM, FCCP, Hala Durrah, MTA, and Kevin Wake, MS, CHW. AMCP Foundation Executive Director, Paula Eichenbrenner, MBA, CAE, dives deeper into the key learnings from the session in her latest blog post.
