P&T Competition

You have successfully created an account in the AMCP Foundation P&T Competition portal.

If you have not registered your school’s intention to compete and provided information for your key contacts, please log back in to the site [https://ptcomp.org/] and complete these steps as soon as possible. This will ensure that your pharmacy school/college is recognized as an official competitor and set up to receive important confidential competition materials.

Thank you again for your interest in the P&T Competition – and best of luck to your team!
